

Effective Communication: An Impenetrable Weapon to Succeed

¹Dr Ankita Gautam, ²Dr. Kiran Mani Tripathi and ³Dr Pragya Joshi

¹Associate Professor, Department of Humanities, Lakshmi Narain College of Technology, Bhopal

²Associate Professor, Department of Humanities, Lakshmi Narain College of Technology, Bhopal

³Professor, Department of Humanities, Oriental Institute of Science and Technology, Bhopal

ABSTRACT

Effective communication is the key to successful outcomes. Technical professionals must be trained in the discipline of communicating with impact. This paper presents a step-by-step approach to achieve a cutting edge in communicative ability. Research has provided insights into the processes of human perception and communication. These findings have led to the development of tools and techniques that enhance the effectiveness of communication, to a significant extent. The seven distinctive steps, of communication process, when performed in order, give the speaker, the ability to communicate and influence a wide variety of people. Engineers and technical professionals in the IEEE environment can use these steps to increase their communication effectiveness. By doing so, they will stand out as more competent professionals, apt at influencing, leading and conveying ideas and concepts to their colleagues. The speaker thus, will understand the structure of communication, better and that, in turn, would be beneficial for the listener, as well. Once this process sets in, the speaker builds a rapport with the listener and thus, initiates the process of understanding listener's paradigms. Once this happens, the speaker can then send the desired message and determine if the message was received, as intended. This process is quite fast and can be done in the course of casual conversation, in the midst of an important meeting, or from a platform presentation. It can be performed both, in large groups or during one-on-one interactions.

Key words: Communication Skill, Communication Effectiveness, Rapport, Listener's Paradigm, Seven Steps of Communication

1. INTRODUCTION

In this Information age, we have to send, receive, and process huge number of messages every day. As far as communication is concerned it is not only about just exchanging information but it is about conveying and understanding the emotion, behind the information and moreover it is sometimes through nuances. Effective communication can improve relationships at home, work, and in social situations by deepening one's connections with fellow beings and improving teamwork, decision-making, and problem solving abilities. Communication enables us to communicate, even if it is on negative or difficult circumstances that are in the form of the messages and without destroying trust or creating conflict we have to build in, between the communicators. Effective communication is a combined skill- set that involves nonverbal communication, attentive listening, the ability to manage stress in the moment, and the capacity to recognize and understand your own emotions and those of the person you're communicating with. At the same time as powerful communication is a received talent, it's far greater effective while it's spontaneous rather than stereotyped. A speech that is read, for example, rarely has the same impact as a speech that is added (or appears to be added) spontaneously. In this direction, it takes time and effort to expand those skills and become an effective communicator. The more attempt and practice you do, the more instinctive and spontaneous your verbal exchange skills becomes.

1.1 Driveway to develop communication skills: Show enthusiasm

People want to feel that you would rather be talking to them than anyone else. When talking, give them the impression that you are excited about talking to them and that you care about them, you make them feel better about themselves. As a result, they'll be more likely to really open up to you.

1.2 Adapt to their body language and feelings.

Pay special attention to the nonverbal communication while listening or speaking. Watch their body language, posture, and also take note of the inflection and word selections. Now, tailor your words, voice tone and body language to fit what you have got found. Doing this can assist them feel a deep subconscious connection with you.

1.3 Display them approval: Tell them what you respect, and why admire them.

Direct connection is one of the best methods with human beings is to be forthright and inform them exactly why you like or appreciate them. If being too direct isn't appropriate, insinuate with a few oblique statements right here and there. Either method can be similarly as effective because anybody responds well to approval.

1.4 Pay attention attentively to the entirety they are saying.

It is important to not to show awareness too much on what you're going to mention next as they may be talking. Rather, listen to every phrase they say and respond back as relevantly and smoothly as feasible. This indicates your interest in the people you are going to get engaged at once. Also make sure to ask open questions whenever they are saying something that you don't pretty recognize. This will help fill any potentially awkward lapses in communication.

1.5 Provide them proper eye contact.

Eye contact communicates to the alternative individual that you are not most effective inquisitive about them and what they have to say, however that you also are straightforward. When carried out sparsely, they'll also count on your confidence in yourself due to your willingness to face them immediately. As a result, people will naturally want to pay extra attention to you and what you've got to mention.

1.6 Supply them your great smile.

When you smile at people you are interactive with at that time you communicate that you like them and their presence brings you happiness. Smiling at them will motive them to subconsciously want to grin returned at you with a purpose to right away construct rapport between the two of you. Just ensure that your smile is honest due to the fact if it's not, they'll feel it.

1.7 Asking rhetoric Questions

Ask questions in order to get them to speak about their hobbies and their life in a way that offers you with perception into their want and desires. Whilst you help them benefit a new, fantastic perspective approximately their state of affairs, they will experience a deep feel of connection and reference to you.

1.8 Be open and clear in communication: Reveal yourself.

Trust in communication is of utmost importance and one of the best ways to earn someone's trust is to reveal yourself as openly as you can. Tell stories about interesting events from your life or just give instances from normal everyday life. As you do this, make sure not to mention things that stray too far from where their interests and values lie. Nothing builds trust like genuine transparency.

1.9 Deliver the influence that you are at the same group.

Use words like "we, us, we're, our, and ourselves" to immediately build a bond. Whilst you use those words, you make it appear to be you are all at the equal group with a not unusual goal or subject. Group should have the feeling of belongingness and care for each other. This moves you into their circle even as every person else seems lack your unique perception and information.

1.10 Offer helpful suggestions.

Recommend locations or restaurants you've been to, films you've seen, helpful people they'd like to fulfill, books you've read, career possibilities and whatever else you can think about. Describe what were so remarkable approximately for those people, places and matters and the way they might have attraction to the opposite character. In case you advise sufficient ideas that interest them, they'll examine you as a "visit" person when they need to determine about what to do subsequent.

1.11 Give them encouragement.

While interacting with or dealing with the people who is younger or in more difficult position it is relevant to offer encouragement or give appreciation. They may recognize your importance. At the same time as you assist them with your experience in greater confident way in their very own abilities they may feel your enter. This lets in even out the connection. Convince them that they could surpass their issues and boundaries and they will sense right approximately connecting with you.

1.12 Appear to have a slightly higher strength level than the opposite individual.

Typically, people need to be with them who are there to improve or lift them up, instead of bringing them down. If you advise along with your voice and your body language with better power or influence, they may experience greater energized and superb whilst being with you. Don't be so energetic that you put people off, but have enthusiasm enough so they experience energized after speaking with you.

1.13 Say their name in a manner that is pleasing to their ears.

Someone's call is one of the most emotionally powerful phrases for them. But it is more relevant to understand that it is the way of crucial importance that how frequently say it or call them. If you say their name with the right tone and inflection, it can actually bring a whole lot of remarkable and positive feeling in them. It will also create rapport and special bonding with them.

1.14 Provide to take the relationship a step in addition.

There are ramifications of things you may do to enhance your friendship with a person: provide to consume with them, talk over a cup of espresso, see a sports activities recreation, and feature a lager or with them, and so forth. Even if people don't take you up on your offers, they will be flattered that you like them enough to want to take the friendship to a deeper level. In a way, they will look up to you because you have the guts to take charge of your life and build friendships instead of expecting those friendships to magically appear for you.

2. EFFECTIVE STRATEGIES OF COMMUNICATION

- Making eye contact (like many nonverbal cues, this is culturally specific; in a few cultures, direct eye contact is an indication of disrespect)
- Use attentive body language: sit slightly ahead with a cozy, proper posture
- Be conscious to your gestures
- Stay on the topic
- Don't be verbose, be yourself
- Be cultural sensitive
- Be Conscious on the opposite individual
- Arrange for privacy if required
- Create an environment free of distractions and interruptions
- Use active listening
- Be warm and enthusiastic
- Decide what the other person already knows, then fill inside the gaps
- Smile or nod
- Don't monopolize the communication
- Establish rapport
- Show interest
- Look positive and alert
- Ask open-ended questions

3. CONCLUSION

Effective communication can enhance relationships at home, outside and in any social condition by the way of deepening your connections to others and improving teamwork, selection-making and problem fixing. It enables you to communicate even terrible, negative or difficult messages without destroying trust or creating conflict. Effective communication has the combined set of skills including nonverbal communication, attentive listening, the ability to manage stress within the second, and the capacity to apprehend and understand your very own emotions and those of the persons you're communicating with. Studies have provided insight into the tactics of human belief, perception and whole communication. These insights have led to the development of tools and techniques that increase significantly the effectiveness of that communication.

REFERENCES

- 1) www.google.com
- 2) Business Communication - Rai & Rai.
- 3) Research Paper IJRAR- International Journal of Research and Analytical Reviews, Volume 2 I Issue 1 I JAN.- March 2015] E ISSN 2348 – 1269, Print ISSN 2349-5138
- 4) Communication Skills, S. K. Jha, Meena Malik, www.AgrMoon.Com
- 5) Effective Communication Skills, MTD Training & Ventus Publishing ApS ISBN 978-87-7681-598-1, 2010
- 6) Mindtools.com. Communication Skills Articles, various. Retrieved May 1, 2010. <http://www.mindtools.com/page8.html>
- 7) English (A Handbook for Grammar & Communication), Evelyn R. Gaikwad, Dhanpat Rai & Co.(pvt.)Ltd. Edition-I, 2015.
- 8) Communication Skills, Sanjay Kumar & Pushp Lata Oxford University Press Edition –I, 2011